Pastor's Corner

In the First and Gospel readings today both Baruch and John the Baptist speak of people being called to recognize their saving relationship with God. John calls us to a baptism of repentance, a freeing of ourselves from the weights the world has placed on our shoulders – often sadly with our full cooperation. We allow ourselves to be entrapped by the world.

Liberation from captivity is to be identified with being loosed from sin. We live for ourselves and we contribute to a situation within which people are abused and disrespected and a clear view of the love of God is obscured because we do not repeat that love in our dealings with those around us.

We do not know when the second coming of Jesus will take place but it should be for us a time of joy, if we are truly liberated from sin. Free from our self-imposed misery we would be able to long for the “day of the Lord” and celebrate it with all kinds of energy. Let us continue this blessed season with this in mind. God bless you all.

Stewardship Reflection

Our prayers and meditations are a way of reminding us what we should be doing as part of our Advent preparations. We should be making a concerted effort to love. We need to increase both our knowledge and our perception of what it means to be a good Catholic, a good steward, a true disciple. We should sort out what is really of value and that can be a challenge in a world where Christmas is so commercialized and the emphasis seems to be placed more on glitz than on faith. We should be striving for righteousness as we prepare for not just the birth of Christ, but the final coming of the Lord as well.

The Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary is a Holy Day of Obligation. See the Mass schedule for Mass times on Monday and Tuesday, December 7 & 8.

Abortion Non-Discrimination Act: Please urge your representatives to support A.N.D.A. by urging elected representatives to support this legislation defending the right of health care providers to care for you in accordance with their best medical and ethical judgment and not be forced to act against their religious beliefs. The NCHLA website makes it easy to stay informed and to send emails to Congress. Go to nchla.org, click on Action Alerts, then on left side of listing click on Conscience Protection, then to Send Email.
